

DWWA Consolidated Shipping

Update for those using consolidated shipping in France

1 January 2021

All wine sent via consolidated shipment in France should be duty paid in France and tendered to Hellmann consolidation centres as Duty Paid (bottles need to show a "Marianne" sticker).

Bottles need to show a 'Marianne' sticker (pictured)

- Submitters sending via this method will receive no certificates of shipment to confirm export.
- Submitters must provide an invoice showing the value of the wine as €0.00
- The invoice should be inscribed in both English and French as follows:

"We declare that duties and taxes have been paid on the mentioned wines in France. The wines are entered into the globally renowned "Decanter World Wine Awards" in the United Kingdom to promote French wine on a global platform. We confirm the wines are for a commercial tasting and therefore have no commercial value."

"Nous déclarons que les droits et taxes ont été payés sur les vins mentionnés en France. Les vins sont inscrits aux "Decanter World Wine Awards" de renommée mondiale au Royaume-Uni pour promouvoir le vin français sur une plateforme mondiale. Nous confirmons les vins sont destinés à une dégustation commerciale et n'ont donc aucune valeur commerciale. "

It is important that an invoice is produced for each set of entries and affixed to the outside of the entry case.

Please contact your nearest Hellmann depot if you require further information regarding consolidated shipping.
